LIFE OF DOCTOR SOUGHT

And Not That of Mrs. Bailey, Is Belief of Detectives

FIRING OF FATAL SHOT

May Have Been the Act of a Lunatic as Physician Had Served Upon Many Lunacy Commissions—Wife Had Installed Dictagraph.

(Associated Press Telegram) Freeport, N. Y., July 2.—Two weeks before Mrs. Louise Bailey was murdered in the office of Dr. Edwin C. Carman, some one called Dr. Carman on the telephone and threatened his life. With apparent reluctance and more than thirty hours after the tragedy, the physician today gave this information to the district attorney. The county prosecutor failed to make him amplify this revelation. Dr. Carman refused to say whether the threatening message came from a man or a woman, and remained silent under further questioning.

On the strength of this information, the detectives continued to work on the theory that the assassin who on Tuesday night broke a window in the doctor's office, poked a revolver through the hole and fired the shot that killed Mrs. Bailey, a patient, had sought the doctor's life and not hers.

The authorities, however, decided not to let the suspicious crystallize until after the performance of an autopsy on Mrs. Bailey's body today.

In searching for a motive for the murder the police today are working on two theories, one is that a lunatic killed Mrs. Bailey while shooting at Dr. Carman. The other theory is that a woman fired the shot.

Dr. Carman has served upon many lunacy commissions in Freeport and the police believe some person was committed to an asylum through his instrumentality sought revenge and missed his aim.

Upon what they based their theory that a woman committed the murder, the police refused to state, but declared that they expected to make an arrest, probably today.

Investigation of the case yesterday and last night only served to deepen the mystery surrounding Mrs. Bailey's reason for calling upon Dr. Carman for medical advice when she might have sought a physician nearer her home in Hempstead, five miles from Freeport.

The investigation also developed that Dr. Carman's wife had for weeks listened to his conversations with women patients by means of a dictagraph. Mrs. Carman readily admitted having had the instrument installed because, she said, she felt she had a right to know what her husband was talking about with women.

"And everything I heard over the dictagraph comforted me," she said. "I became convinced of the doctor's fidelity to me."

After questioning the Carman family and a negro maid employed there, District Attorney Lewis J. Smith stated that he was convinced that the shot had been fired by someone outside the house and not by a member of the household.

An autopsy upon the body of Mrs. Bailey was set for today, but as the cause of death is so firmly established little is expected to be brought out.

Joseph Olsen, one of the two men who sat in Dr. Carman's killing room when Mrs. Bailey was killed, surprised the authorities today by declaring that he saw Mrs. Carman enter the room a minute or two after the shot was fired. She helped her husband lift the woman's body to a couch, he said, and folded the hands over the breast.

This contradicted Mrs. Carman's statement that she did not see Mrs. Bailey either before or after the shooting.

Further questioning brought from Olsen an admission that he might have made a mistake and that the woman he saw in the doctor's office might have been Mrs. Carman's sister, who closely resembled her.

INCOME

Of Wilson Administration for Fiscal Year Exceeds Expenses by $33,784,452.07.

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 2.—There was great elation in Democratic circles here today over the fact that the Wilson administration closed the fiscal year Tuesday with its income exceeding ordinary expenses by $33,784,452.07. The figures as announced by the treasury department showed that the total receipts for the year aggregated $735,343,700.20, while total disbursements were $700,559,248.13. The total receipts were a million and a half more than Secretary McAdoo's original estimates.

Did "Big Business" Support Carranza?

An interesting tale of the relations of the Constitutionalists of Mexico with "Big Business," as represented by Henry Clay Pierce, the oil magnate, and Charles R. Flint, has been published. Sherburne G. Hopkins, a Washington lawyer, it is said, has traveled in Mexico for Pierce, who has large oil interests there. Hopkins denies that either he or Pierce have done anything of which they are ashamed.

REAL WAR IS DECLARED ON PLAGUE PESTS

City Employees of New Orleans Begin Plans to Exterminate Rodents, Bubonic Carriers.

(Associated Press Telegram) New Orleans, July 2.—Six thousand baited rat traps today did silent duty in the infected zone of the city where they had been placed by direction of health authorities in their vigorous campaign to eradicate bubonic plague, two hundred employees of the city placed the traps, rat proofed residences and business houses and kept a general surveillance in the prescribed area. The discovery of a second focus of infection, believed to be the correct one, enlarged the territory over which strict watch is being kept. The warehouse of the Volunteers of America, on Girard street, where W. W. Wilkins yesterday told President Dowling of the state board of health that he had been bitten by fleas prior to developing bubonic plague while lodging at the Volunteers Industrial Home on St. Joseph street, was today given special attention by the health department.

Prior to the arrival here today of Dr. Rupert Blue, surgeon general of the United States public health service, no other new measures for stamping out the contagion had been adopted.

BIG SESSION OF B. Y. P. U. OPENS IN KANSAS CITY

(Associated Press Telegram) Kansas City, July 2.—Three thousand Baptist young men and women were called to order here today at the twenty-first convention of the Baptist young people's union of America, meeting jointly with the Baptist Young People Union (south). After an address of welcome by Dr. J. C. Armstrong of Kansas City and a response by the Rev. George P. Beers, Baltimore, Md., M. W. Hamilton, D. D., president of the B. Y. P. U. (south) delivered an address in which he urged the churches to take more aggressive part in the social lives of the young people.

Because it has been found impracticable to get young business and professional men to attend young people's executive committee meetings, the board of managers of the B. Y. P. U. a report submitted today recommended an advisory council of younger workers to be associated with the board.

In the report special honor was given the Wilson Avenue B. Y. P. U. of Cleveland, Ohio, for being the first in the international field to fulfill the 100 per cent. standard of excellence as set forth in the last convention.

TRANSFER OF BODIES AT TRIESTE

Austrian Battleship Lands With Dead Archduke And Duchess

SHORES WERE THROGGED

And Imposing Demonstration Accompanied the Landing—Transferred to Train and Will Arrive in Vienna at Ten O'Clock Tonight.

(Associated Press Telegram) Trieste, Austria, July 2.—An imposing demonstration today accompanied the landing here from the Austrian battleship Viribus Unitis, of the bodies of the assassinated Archduke Francis Ferdinand and his consort, the Duchess of Hohenberg. The entire community thronged the shore or took up positions on board ships in the harbor at an early hour.

On the San Carlo wharf a large space had been kept free for the two catafalques which were draped in gold and black. On the left stood the generals and admirals and other officers of the army and navy with the commander-in-chief of the Austro-Hungarian navy, Rear Admiral Oskar Hansa at their head.

On the right were the governor of the maritime provinces, Prince Hohenlohe-Schillingsfuerst and many other state and municipal officials in brilliant uniforms covered with decorations.

An enormous gathering of members of various societies and deputations representing shipping, commerce and different trades, all the Catholic clergy of Trieste and the clergy of other denominations had assembled and behind them was drawn up a naval guard of honor, while the whole square was lined by students.

The two coffins, shrouded with national flags, were transferred from the battleship to a barge draped with black. This was towed by a tender to shore amid artillery salutes and the tolling of church bells.

The guard of honor presented arms as the coffins were carried to the catafalques, followed by the members of the household of the late archduke and duchess.

The Rt. Rev. Andrew Karlin, bishop of Trieste, assisted by a large number of clergy blessed the bodies and a long procession was then formed. The coffins were placed on two hearses, each drawn by six horses. Seven coaches filled with wreaths headed the procession with the priests following. Behind the hearses marched the members of the households of the archduke and duchess, the provincial governor and a long procession of naval and military officers, civil officials and delegations of all kinds with two companies of soldiers in the rear.

On its way to the Southern railway station whence the bodies were to be conveyed to Vienna, the procession passed between dense masses of people. All the men stood with uncovered heads and most of the women wore mourning.

Lines of infantry and bluejackets aided by municipal guards and firemen were drawn up along the whole route.

The buildings were draped with black and business houses were closed during the time of the passage of the procession.

The coffins reached the railway station at 9:30 and military honors were there rendered by a detachment of a composite regiment of Bosnians and Herzegovinians. A number of naval petty officers placed the coffins on a railway car which had been arranged as a mortuary chapel. Bishop Tryphon Pedersoli then uttered another blessing and the doors of the car were sealed.

The members of the suites of the dead archduke and duchess entered other cars and the train departed for Vienna, where it is expected to arrive at 10 o'clock this evening.

EMPEROR ABANDONS TRIP.

(Associated Press Telegram) Potsdam, Germany, July 2.—Emperor William suddenly abandoned today his intended trip to Vienna to attend the funeral of the late Archduke Francis Ferdinand. It was announced that he was suffering from a severe cold attended with symptoms of lumbago.

MINERS SUBMIT WAGE DEMANDS TO OPERATORS

(Associated Press Telegram) Columbus, July 2.—Miners of the sub-surface committee today submitted their formal demands to the operators. These demands provide for 47 cents a ton for machine mining and 67.62 for pick mining on a run of the mine basis. They say the average fine coal produce of the state is 32.38.

The proposition they had to offer, they said, was that the operators be expected to give their answer this afternoon.

Karl Franz Josef, New Crown Prince of Austria, Duchess and Son

Archduke Karl Franz Josef has come to be the heir to the crown of Austria-Hungary as the result of two violent deaths—the murder of Archduke Franz Ferdinand and his morganatic wife, Duchess of Hohenberg, Sunday in Bosnia and the mysterious killing, twenty-five years ago of Archduke Rudolph, Emperor Franz Josef's only son.

Huerta Delegates Ready To Discuss Peace Measures With the Constitutionalists

(Associated Press Telegram) Niagara Falls, July 2.—Communication between the two warring factions in Mexico, which it is hoped, eventually will lead to conferences for the establishment of peace was begun today when the delegation representing General Huerta formally addressed to the three South American mediators a note to be transmitted to the constitutionalists representatives in Washington.

In this the Huerta delegates express their willingness to discuss measures of peace with the constitutionalists and bring to an end the civil strife which has been devastating their country for the last year.

While the protocols already signed cover many phases of the international situation it is generally recognized that until a provisional government is actually agreed on and a date set for recognition of the new government, American troops will not be withdrawn and international questions not finally settled.

The mediation colony is disposed to regard the protocols thus far signed as terms of peace which represent an agreement between the United States and Mexico to resume diplomatic relations upon the fulfillment of a single condition—establishment of a provisional government by agreement of the Mexican factions.

Carranza was in Saltillo preparing to move his provisional capital to Monterrey. President Wilson and his advisers declined today to discuss the recess of the mediators. However, the president's statement, authorized yesterday, that the Mexican situation was as favorable as it could be pending an agreement between the warring factions, generally was reflected in administration circles.

Receivers Appointed For C. H. & D. Road on Behalf Of the Banker's Trust Co.

(Associated Press Telegram) Cincinnati, July 2.—Judson Harmon, former governor of Ohio, and Attorney General of the United States and Judge Rufus B. Smith, of this city were today appointed receivers for the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton railroad, application for which was filed in the United States district court earlier in the day on behalf of the Bankers Trust company of New York. The bonds of each of the receivers were placed at $50,000. The petition asking for the receivers declared that the entire bonded indebtedness of the railroad is $75,000,000 and charged that the railroad has defaulted on the interest of $29,190,000 first mortgage and $3,142,000 bonds of the Indiana, Decatur and Western railroad, and $4,722,000 bonds of the Cincinnati, Indiana and Western railroad.

The petition of the Bankers Trust company seeks the foreclosure of a mortgage which is estimated at $36,000,000. The Bankers Trust company in addition to asking for a receiver asks that officials and employees of the railroad be enjoined from interfering with, transferring or disposing of any of the property of the company.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton was thrown into the hands of a receiver in 1905 following the taking over of the property by the J. Pierpont Morgan Company of New York.

Manchester N. H., July 2.—Three lives were lost early today in a fire which slightly damaged the lodging house of Mrs. David Mayo on North Elm street. John Reed was killed when he disengaged a policeman's warning and jumped from a third floor window. Frederick Caron and Albert Lechance were suffocated in their rooms on the top floor of the four story frame building.

Several lodgers were hurt in jumping from windows. Some were taken down ladders and others escaped over the roof to an adjoining building.

Australia railways will this year add 1000 cars and 180 engines to their equipment.

(Associated Press Telegram) Lansing Mich., July 2.—The announcement that 400 Japanese laborers from California are coming to today in Alger county, this state, has started anti-alien law agitation started and it is reported an attempt will be made at the next session of the state legislature to enact an anti-alien law similar to the one in California.

The Japanese will engage in vegetable farming when they arrive in Alger county.

CHILD STRUCK BY AUTOMOBILE; BADLY INJURED

Ralph Allen, Aged 11, Sustained Fractured Skull in Accident.

Was on Bicycle and Turned Into Street Directly in Front of Auto.

Ralph Allen, the 11-year-old son of Mrs. Linnie Allen, of 114 North Fourth street, was seriously injured about 12 o'clock Thursday noon by being knocked down by an automobile in Elmwood avenue, near Locust street.

The little fellow was riding his bicycle south in the street, when his attention was attracted to Mr. George Wiley, who was walking on the sidewalk on the east side of the avenue, carrying a pigeon in his hands.

The Allen lad rode to the curb, looked at the pigeon and then turned out toward the middle of the street directly in front of the Ford car being driven south by the owner, E. S. Woodward, who lives at 155 East Main street.

William Webber called to the lad, but too late to attract his attention in time to avoid the accident, and he was knocked off his wheel to the brick pavement, striking on the side of his head.

Blood was flowing from the ear as he was picked up and carried to his home, about a hundred yards from the scene of the accident. Dr. K. Essington was called and after a superficial examination gave it as his opinion that the child's skull was fractured and that the operation would be necessary at once. Accordingly Bazler & Bradley's ambulance was called and the injured boy was taken to the City Hospital.

Mr. Woodward stopped his machine within a distance of 13 feet and stayed at the Allen home to render any assistance until the victim was taken to the hospital.

At 2:30 o'clock Dr. Essington said the boy had very good chances for recovery. The hemorrhage from the ear was continuous and profuse, which lessens the chances of a blood clot forming at the point of the slight fracture of the skull, while there are no internal injuries, it is thought.

BADLY INJURED IN FALL DOWN THE STAIRWAY

Arthur Skeen, the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Skeen of 358 Kibler avenue was seriously injured on Wednesday afternoon, when he plunged head-first down the stairway at his home.

He slipped on the top step and fell to the bottom, falling head first. Dr. C. F. Legge was called and his injuries were found to be extensive. He had knocked out three front teeth, broken his jaw, and the lower lip was cut entirely through requiring stitches on the inside and the outside. He is resting more comfortably this afternoon.

FINANCIAL LEADERS TO AIR VIEWS

At White House Where Informal Conferences Are to Occur

MORGAN THERE TODAY

Henry Ford, Detroit Manufacturer, Will Be Entertained at Luncheon Next Week by the President—Wants Views of Heads of "Big Business."

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 2.—J. P. Morgan and President Wilson had nearly an hour's conference today at the White House on general business conditions.

It was the first of a series of talks the president plans to have in the near future with captains of industry and finance learning their views and giving his own on the industrial and financial situation of the country as well as measures in congress.

White House officials said the conference between the president and Mr. Morgan had been just a friendly discussion of the general subject. Mr. Morgan refused to disclose what had taken place.

"There is absolutely nothing I can say," said he.

Under a running fire of questions as he passed through the door of the executive offices Mr. Morgan only shook his head and smiled. As he stepped into his carriage he said: "My visit with the president was very cordial. You will have to ask him what we talked about."

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 2.—J. P. Morgan had an engagement at the White House today to discuss general business conditions with President Wilson. It was the first of formal conferences the president intends to have with industrial and financial leaders in a short time.

It was said at the White House that Mr. Morgan had asked for the engagement and it was explained that the two men are personal friends. Another version of the meeting was that Mr. Morgan had been invited through friends to give his views to the president.

Next week the President will have an informal conference with Henry Ford, the Detroit manufacturer, who will be entertained at luncheon at the White House. It was said the president invited Mr. Ford.

Officials close to the president said Mr. Wilson would take such an opportunity to outline his views to the heads of "big business" in person. Mr. Morgan's engagement was more or less of a surprise to those who have observed the course the president has taken since he entered the White House in having conferences with captains of industry.

It had been pointed out that Mr. Wilson was receiving the big business men of the country less frequently than his predecessors, in fact, had not been asking their advice at all on legislation affecting business as many other presidents have done. When the currency bill was in passage through congress, the president even declined to receive some members of the Morgan firm.

White House officials say today that one of the features which had entered into public discussion of the administration's trust legislation policy and what the president characterized as a "psychological depression" caused by a campaign to halt the trust bills in congress, was an inference that Mr. Wilson did not care to meet the big business men of the country face to face, and discuss with them personally the issues in which they are so vitally interested.

By the series of informal conferences with leaders of industry and finance, of which those with Mr. Morgan and Mr. Ford will be the first, it is the idea to show that the president is approaching the subject with an open mind willing to hear the views of big business first-hand and outline his own views in return.

Although there are other subjects interesting Mr. Morgan at present in which the government has a part, it (Continued on Page 10, Col. 4.)

(Associated Press Telegram) Washington, July 2.—The department of agriculture announced today that it started its 1914 campaign against hog cholera and that its representatives would co-operate with state authorities to prevent and eradicate the disease. With an appropriation of $500,000 available to combat the disease, the department announced that $200,000 will be spent during the coming year in each experimental district. Contest Editor's Query Column

The Advocate will be glad to answer all legitimate questions regarding the contest through the Contest Editor's query column. Questions may be sent by mail or telephone but the answers will be printed in this column so that no contestant will have any advantage over another.

"Dr. H. D. J. writes: 'I am one of the losers in the contest but do not feel sore. All credit to the winners. Your paper is a clean and elevating sheet. I am interested in asking a question. Have read your query column very closely from start to finish was interested in the criticism of "Contestant" in issue of June 24, but not in the spirit in which it was given. He or she criticized your rules for selection and elimination as applied to "Lavender and Old Lace" I fell down on that for the same reason, because lavender is not shown and literally, it is not shown. It is indicated by the word perfume, but perfume can mean any of the varieties. In the issue of June 29 Mrs. R. C. A. says that the critics of the above picture must have lacked imagination. Now, if the rules are to take only what is shown in picture, why then to the matter of fact mind imagination cannot come into play. In selecting and eliminating I lost out on quite a number but not allowing my imagination play a part, for I had quite a number of the right answers on my list for those I missed. Now, my question is are there any rules for selection and elimination from one's general list or is it just a matter of judgment and the one who happens to get the greatest number right after using the best judgment is the winner? I am working on another contest now, and they give four pictures which indicate light on the face of them that they are Alice in Wonderland, Cricket on the Hearth, Brewster's Millions, Jack and the Beanstalk. They are indicated by the words used in the pictures. I understand those four pictures are the bait. With the other pictures in the contest a large majority of them are illustrated just like the first four, and yet I feel that if one would follow out getting a line on them like he did on the first four he would probably fall down on a great many of them. I know that they all cannot be easy, but why are the easy ones published as advertisements for the contest if you cannot apply the same rules to the others of the same character?"

There are no rules for selection and elimination of answers for the simple reason that each contest stands by itself. Rules or suggestions applying in one contest might not fit another case. We have seen the pictures referred to. If all in the entire series were as plain as the ones first published it would seem that every contestant would have 100. While it is the intention always to have the picture as a whole or a leading feature of the picture tell the answer, imagination or reading between the lines usually plays some part, but it doesn't take much stretch of imagination to read "Lavender and Old Lace" in the picture referred to. As proof of this it may be said that fully half of the Advocate contestants had the right answer to that picture.

M. F. Thank you for writing: "Your contest was fair to all. I enjoyed it very much."

TO WARD OFF SUMMER COMPLEXION ILLS

To keep the face smooth, white and beautiful all summer there's nothing quite so good as ordinary mercurized wax. Oily, freckled or discolored skin, so common at this season, is gently absorbed by the wax and replaced by the newer, fresher skin beneath. The face exhibits no trace of the wax, the latter being applied at bedtime and washed off mornings. Creams, powders and rouges, on the other hand, are apt to appear more conspicuous than usual these days of excessive perspiration. Just get an ounce of mercurized wax at any drug store and use like cold cream. This will help any skin at once, and in a week or so the complexion will look remarkably youthful and healthy.

Sun, winds and flying dust often cause skinning and other contortions which make wrinkles. You can quickly get rid of every wrinkle, however produced, by using a harmless face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered savalite in ½ pt. water. Advertisement

IF BACKACHEY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat and take a glass of Salts to flush out kidneys—Drink plenty water.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush out the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to cleanse the kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

In the morning, to my surprise, my hand was all well and the trouble has never returned. This is the absolute truth."—(Signed) Miss Celia Kleinman, 61 Columbia St., April 26, 1913.

FIVE SERIOUSLY INJURED TODAY NEAR CANTON, O.

(Associated Press Telegram)

Canton, O., July 2.—Five persons were seriously injured and half a dozen badly bruised in a wreck on the Magnolia-Sandyville spur of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad today. Two of the injured have fractured skulls and may die.

The injured: Mrs. Anna McDonald, 45, Magnolia, skull fractured. Jesse McCreery, 40, Magnolia, undertaker, skull fractured and internal injuries.

Catherine Campbell, Canton, nose broken, injured internally. Chester Campbell, four, badly cut and bruised.

While Gordon, Magnolia, internally injured and cut. The accommodation train consisted only of an engine and combination baggage and passenger car. Spreading rails caused the car to jump the track, break from the engine, roll down a 15 foot embankment and land with wheels up.

GET TO THE CAUSE

Newark People Are Learning the Way.

There is but little peace or comfort for the man or woman with a bad back. The distress begins in early morning—keeps up throughout the day. It's hard to get out of bed, it's torture to stoop or straighten. Blasters and liniments may relieve, but cannot cure if the cause is in the kidneys. When suffering so, use Doan's Kidney Pills, the tested and proven kidney remedy, used in kidney troubles for over 50 years. Doan's Kidney Pills are recommended by thousands for just such cases. Proof of their effectiveness in the testimony of this Newark resident:

Mrs. Frey, 131 S. Second street, Newark, Ohio, says: "My kidneys were weak and I had backache. I used different remedies, but was not benefited until I took Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from A. F. Crayton & Co.'s Drug Store. The backache left and my kidneys became strong." Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—The same that Mrs. Frey had. Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, July 2.—[Special.]—Agitation for good roads legislation has not ceased, although it has been many months since the bill appropriating $25,000,000 for the construction of roads passed the house.

This measure has been hung up so long in the senate committee on post-offices and post roads that the conclusion was reached that the senate would not act this session. This may be true, but there is pressure which will possibly bring the bill out of committee so it can be considered in the next session.

Two Conflicting Propositions.

The senate committee is wrestling with two conflicting propositions for the expenditure of money for good roads. Senator Swanson of Virginia has taken up the Shackleford $25,000,000 bill and is urging it with great earnestness. That money would be loaned to the states for the construction of roads used by rural carriers.

The Bourne proposition, which is favored by quite a number of the members of the committee, proposes to loan money to the states, or at least to guarantee the bonds issued for good roads by the states, under which method, it is believed, a low rate of interest, 2½ or 3½ per cent, can be obtained.

It is proposed to extend this credit to the amount of $1,000,000,000. There are some people who feel that in the end the government will pay that $1,000,000,000, for if any one state should default the rest of them would insist that they be treated equally.

Struggle For Position.

If the good roads measure is reported in the senate there is going to be a fierce struggle for position and precedence among those who are advocating different measures that are still to be considered. Appropriation bills naturally have the right of way. For the next six weeks it is expected that the trust legislation is likely to occupy the attention of the senate to the exclusion of nearly everything else except appropriation bills. By that time the senate will be ready to adjourn.

Could Write a Book.

After a long and wearisome discussion on the Indian appropriation bill Vice President Marshall was asked by a friend if he had learned something of the Indian question. "I could write a book," replied the vice president. "I could write a history of the wrongs of the Indians from the first settlement at Jamestown until the present time."

Williams Almost Personal.

During a discussion of the Choctaw Indians and the appropriation bill Senator John Sharp Williams of Mississippi, who was fighting for the Mississippi Choctaws, and Senator Owen of Oklahoma were in a sharp colloquy when Williams turned around and said to Owen, "Those Mississippi Choctaws are more Indian than you or more than I." Here he hesitated a moment and was looking at Congressman Carter of Oklahoma, who sat near and who is seven-sixteenths Choctaw and Cherokee, and added—"more than any one here." Owen is part Cherokee.

Will Be Indifferent.

Sparring for time on appropriation bills, Chairman Fitzgerald in reply to what congress would do before it adjourned said, "After the appropriation bills are disposed of I will be indifferent as to what will occupy the house the balance of the time."

There are a number of appropriation bills, which will keep Fitzgerald busy for some time to come, for there is the general deficiency bill to follow the large sundry civil bill.

Complaint From the West.

Senators from western states are often charged with being antagonistic to conservation and also to giving the Indians their rights. Senator Mark Smith pointed out one reason for the feeling of the western men. "Fifty per cent of the state of Arizona," he said, "making reservations larger than all of the New England states, has been withheld forever from taxation by the people. We are left nothing but the absolute desert to go to for the selection of our lands for the public institutions which are granted under the legislation making us a state. We are obliged to tax our people heavily to maintain a state government because the best parts of the lands are thus withheld and are non-taxable."

Saw Danger Ahead.

A discussion was going on in the house over the methods of procedure. The discussion was not really in order, and Congressman Bryan of Washington made the point, saying, "Surely at this rate we shall get into a wrangle, and then we will get into trouble." There is not much difference between a "wrangle" and "trouble" in the house. They are often the same thing.

THOSE WHO ARE LUCKY ENOUGH TO POSSESS A SMITH & NIXON PIANO

can fully appreciate how difficult it is to get a perfect instrument when they see how many of their friends have "other," and less satisfactory, makes. From the simplest folk song to the most difficult sonata it always sounds entrancingly beautiful on the Smith and Nixon in contradistinction to "any" other instrument on the market. Come in and try it yourself. Old instruments taken in exchange, and balance on easy terms if desired. A. L. Rawlings, 4 North Park Place, Newark, O. 7-2-6t

FEDERS WILL TRY TO INVOKE SHERMAN LAW

AGENTS OF ORGANIZED BASEBALL CLAIM OLD LEAGUES ARE ILLEGAL COMBINATIONS.

August Hann Says Such Action Will Be Old Magnates—Base Case.

Chicago, July 2.—The Federal League will invoke the Sherman anti-trust law's fight for the services of Marshall Chase, according to a statement by President Gilmore Wednesday. The statement says that organized baseball combination operating in restraint of trade will be made by attorneys for the league when the next stage in the case, now in the federal court is reached.

President Gilmore declared that his league was discouraged by the adverse ruling in the federal court of appeals in the Killifer case at Cincinnati. Under the 10-day clause nor the rule, on which the main part of the fight has been based, was not involved in the Killifer case.

HERRMAN WELCOMES PROPOSED ACTION.

Cincinnati, O., July 2.—August Herrmann, chairman of the national baseball commission, when informed here of the Federal League's intention that the Sherman anti-trust law might be used against organized baseball, said: "The Federal League leaders probably have gotten that we invited investigation along that line, and did so before the present action was taken. We would welcome such investigation at any time. On the other hand, we are even now contemplating action against the Federal League along the line of conspiracy, because of their acts toward our players who are under contract. It is possible that such course will be taken shortly."

"We are not restraining Marsans and Chasman playing, but are trying to get them to play. It is the Federal League who are keeping them from playing if anyone is."

CHASE WILL MOVE TO LIFT INJUNCTION.

Buffalo, N. Y., July 2.—A motion will be made in federal court here on Monday for order vacating the injunction granted on June 20 restraining Hal Chase, former Chicago American first baseman, from playing with the Buffalo Federal League club.

Notice of the motion and Chase's affidavit in answer to the complaint of the Chicago American League club, were filed in the county clerk's office Wednesday.

In the affidavit which covers 30 typewritten pages, Chase seeks to show that his contract relations with the Chicago American League to and that he was a free agent when he sought employment with the Federal League.

WILL BATTLE AT NEIL PARK, COLUMBUS, ON SATURDAY

JOHNNIE LORE

JIMMIE DUFFY

Columbus, July 2.—With both Jimmy Duffy, of Buffalo, and Johnnie Lore, of New York, now here, everything is in readiness for the 12-round battle between these sterling lightweights to be held at the baseball park here on Saturday afternoon, July 4.

Duffy and Lore will complete their training here. The ring has been erected at Neil park and each boxer will work out today and tomorrow. The advance sale of tickets indicates that a record crowd will see the bout, the winner of which will be matched shortly to meet Charley White, of Chicago. Duffy has already met White once, getting a decision from every Buffalo paper, but since White's newspaper decision over Champion Willie Ritchie at Milwaukee a few weeks ago he is more than anxious to meet him again.

Officials of the Interurban club announced today that the show will start promptly at 3 o'clock and that there will be absolutely no delay in running off the preliminary bouts.

Should all of the battles go the limit, the show will be over by 5 o'clock, ample time for all out-of-town patrons to return home in good time.

Because of the capacity of the grandstand at Neil park the prices have been held down to $1 up to $2.50 for ringside seats. A canopy will be held over the ring and the spectators will of course be protected by being in the grandstand.

AMERICANS WIN IN RACES AT THE ROYAL REGATTA

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Henley on Thames, July 2.—The three transatlantic eight oared crews the Union Boat club of Boston, Harvard second eight and Winnipeg, Canada, defeated their English rivals early today in the race for the grand challenge cup, the chief event of the Royal regatta. The only heat remaining to be decided this afternoon was that between Jesus College, Cambridge, and the Mayence Rowing club of Germany. In the semi-finals to-morrow Harvard meets Winnipeg and Boston meets the winner of the Mayence-Jesus race.

In the individual's sculling contest for the diamond sculls, James U. Ayer of the Boston Union Boat club, was eliminated today by the giant Italian, Giuseppe Sinigaglia, Robert Dibble of Toronto, Canada, the American amateur sculling champion, was successful over the Englishman, J. Lawrence Tinn, and will represent the transatlantic oarsmen in the semi-final of the Diamonds.

The Mayence Rowing club of Germany beat Jesus College, Cambridge, in the fourth heat of the grand challenge cup by three-quarters of a length in 7 minutes, 22 seconds, beating Harvard's time by 15 seconds.

The forest service collected 40,000 pounds of tree seed last year for use in reforestation work. The total area reforested was about 30,000 acres.

The flight was between Chicago and Norfolk, Neb., where 682 pigeons were released Saturday. The winner reached the home coop in nine hours and twenty-three minutes, a rate of flight swifter than sixty miles an hour.

FAST TIME MADE IN THE TRIALS ON SPEEDWAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Sioux City, Ia., July 2.—Several drivers made fast time today in the trials at the Sioux City automobile speedway for the 300-mile sweepstakes. An average speed of 70 miles an hour, or one lap in 1:42 flat was required of each driver.

Spencer Wishart drove his car around the two mile dirt track at a rate exceeding eighty-three miles an hour and made one lap in 1:26 4-5, the fastest time ever made on the course.

Billy Chandler was given the red flag first and circled the track in 1:26 1-5. Barne Oldfield was the next man sent around the course. On his first trial Oldfield failed to finish in the required time, engine trouble being the reason. Three minutes later he whirled over the dirt oval in 1:29 flat. George Babcock, Gill Anderson, Bob Burman and Ralph Mulford were among the ten to qualify in slower time.

Licking's Showing.

Licking county has the honor of being the first of Ohio's eighty-eight to make its report to the Ohio state tax commission and the credit belongs to District Assessor Wm. H. Anderson and his corps of efficient deputy assessors and clerks. The state commissioners had anticipated a substantial increase in the valuation from Licking county but the estimate was about $300,000 short of the actual increase. Mr. Anderson reports an increase of $3,166,000 in the Licking county tax duplicate over last year. This is exclusive of public utilities.

The district assessor's report shows an increase in Licking county real estate of $1,700,000 but this increase is due to the addition of about $800,000 for minerals and mineral rights (oil and gas) leaving a balance of $900,000, due largely to the construction of new buildings throughout the county. These figures show that the assessors kept faith with the people in not adding to the burden of the land owners. Surely this splendid showing means a lower tax rate.

Automatic Signals.

The fatal crossing accident to aged Fred Nixon, Wednesday, on the Zanesville division of the Ohio Electric, calls to mind that these accidents are no more uncommon, and in this connection it is a matter of public concern that some means should be taken by the company to better protect the many grade crossings on its lines between Columbus and Zanesville.

A crusade, backed by a consistent public sentiment, for the past few years against the wholesale and needless sacrifice of human life to careless protection of road crossings along steam lines, has resulted in millions of dollars having been spent by these companies in the building of viaducts, the placing of watchmen and the installation of automatic signals at these danger points, with the result that there has been a great reduction of loss of life and mangle of victims.

Why should not electric railways be amenable to the same regulations in this regard as steam roads?

It makes little difference to a victim, in the ultimate consequences, July 2 In American History.

1881—President Garfield shot in the railroad station at Washington by Charles J. Guiteau, a disappointed applicant for office, who was arrested at once.

leg muscles, or pay the car fares where necessary through lower rents and gardens.

More and more people are putting in so-called "sprinkler systems," and one concern is advertising to install such a system and take its pay out of the saving in cost of insurance. There are now several "sprinkled risks" in Newark and more sprinkling systems are soon to be installed here. The installation of a sprinkler system in factory, store or other large building means a great saving in cost of insurance and at the same time it means protection to the property—that's why the insurance rate on sprinkler protected property is low.

Everybody should at least keep the premises clean, free from trash and rubbish, see that the electric wiring is in good condition and that no rubber hose gas connections are used. Proper care has a great deal to do with fire prevention.

Paragraphs

War on Rats.

Even though there is very slight danger that the bubonic plague, which has broken out in isolated cases in New Orleans, will ever reach Ohio, Columbus health officials, Wednesday, began a sweeping campaign against rats, the medium through which the plague is spread. The health department issued an appeal to the people to begin an immediate unrelenting extermination of rodents, declaring that if the rats could be exterminated, the plague would never spread.—Columbus Dispatch.

Regulating Autos.

Over in Elkhart, the automobile club is making an effort to enforce all traffic laws and regulations. Twenty-five members of the club have qualified as special traffic policemen, with the duty of assisting regular policemen. Now the club has started a campaign to require the use of "dimmers" on the automobile searchlights. The same regulation would apply to street cars within the city limits. The club will begin by requesting all members to dim their lights, and a committee will call upon the street railway officials. Then council will be asked to pass an ordinance prohibiting the use of the glaring headlights without some device for dimming them.—Sandusky Star-Journal.

Newark Began Earlier.

Help the women swat the fly. Let's do all we can this summer and get ready for an early start next spring and clean up the breeding places. The results of the campaign, even though started late, are already apparent.—Akron Beacon Journal.

Hold Your Job.

Of the 170 ranking officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad system, 163 (including the president) started at the bottom, sweeping out cars, carrying water for laborers, working on the right of way, and other like jobs of the very commonest kind. It is perfectly certain that other men are now traveling the same road to success, but please note that 142 of the 170 have been in the service over 20 years. One essential to success in any business is to remain in it.—Cleveland Weekly.

By the Way

Earnest conversation between father and daughter means that the daughter has asked for money and that the father is trying to compromise at fifty cents on the dollar.

The law of compensation nearly always works. If your hair is red the possibility that you may be able to keep it becomes a probability.

About all a man can tell about a woman's hair is that she seems to have a lot of it. A woman can, at one glance, determine whether it is imitation or genuine.

Nearly every man devotes a little money to the support of his favorite prophet.

The left hind foot of a graveyard rabbit will bring luck to any man who is industrious, efficient, economical and thrifty.

John Klopfer says he is an iconoclast. As a matter of fact, John merely is a crabbed, contrary, ill-tempered and irreverent old man.

There are various recipes for success. Mrs. Hardin Tedwick, who has made a comfortable fortune running a boarding house, did it by refusing to allow her worthless, good-for-nothing husband to annoy her patrons.

Triumphantly the toiler roared, "I get three bones a day and board! That's going some, eh, what?" And on he labored, brave and strong; the work was hard, the hours were long, the day was passing hot. I sat at ease beneath a tree—that sort of thing appeals to me—and watched him as he toiled; the sweat rolled down him in a stream, and I could see his garments steam, his face and hands were broiled. He chuckled as he toiled away. "They're paying me three bones a day, with board and washing, too!" That was his dream of easy mon—to stew and simmer in the sun, for that, the long day through! And I, who earn three iron men with sundry scratches of a pen, felt sorry for the joy; but, as I watched his stalwart form, the pity that was glowing warm within me, blew away. For he was getting more than wealth—keen appetite and rugged health, and blessings such as those; and when the day of toil was through, no doubt the stalwart workers knew a weary child's repose!

Children's Sayings

Little Mary was visiting at a neighbor's house when the following conversation ensued.

Hostess: "How is your Aunt Ella?"
Mary: "Why, she's well."
Hostess: "Your mother told me she was sick."

Mary: "Mamma said she had brown kitties, but I didn't know she was sick."

Small Harry had been severely reprimanded for an impertinence to his grandmother, and an apology was demanded. Sighing he approached her and said: "Grandma, I'm s-s-sorry I called you a crank. I meant a f-f-fool."

Young Arthur was disturbed one evening by the appearance of a misty halo around the moon. "Oh, look," he exclaimed, "the moon's a-crying!"

The family cat came tearing madly round the house and took refuge under the porch. Three-year-old Jack looked up and inquired, "What's it finding at?"

One of the hot days last week a man was walking up North Fourth street and removed his straw hat to "cool off." He happened to be quite bald and it was the first condition of this kind that little Mark Managan had ever observed. Excitedly calling to his brother, he exclaimed, "Come here, quick honey, here's a man that's barefooted on his head!"

STATE CAMPAIGN AGAINST RODENTS WILL BE STARTED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

Columbus, July 2.—Methods of rat extermination of rodents for traces of the plague were sent out to all health boards and health officers in the state by Dr. E. P. McCampbell, secretary and executive officer of the state board of health, today, following the preliminary steps taken earlier in the week to prevent the invasion of bubonic plague which recently appeared in New Orleans. Suggestions that all buildings be rat proof and that precautions be taken to prevent rats coming ashore from vessels on the rivers and lakes are also embodied in the circular, which calls attention to the necessity of exterminating the pests both as a sanitary measure and to check the enormous property damage caused yearly by the animals.

Interest in rat extermination, stimulated by the recommendations of the state board of health that a campaign against rodents be waged throughout the state as a preventive measure against plague, has led to many inquiries as to methods for carrying on the work. According to Dr. E. P. McCampbell, secretary and executive officer of the board, the use of poison is an effective method of rat destruction, but is more adapted to outbuildings, as the odor from the dead animals makes it objectionable in the case of occupied dwellings.

The poisons most commonly used are barium carbonate, strychnine, arsenic and phosphorus, but Dr. McCampbell does not recommend the last named on account of the great precautions necessary to prevent the highly inflammable substance from burning the poison or setting fire to crops or buildings.

Justice Scott's Court.

Hairs—long hairs, short hairs, hairs of all colors, sizes and shapes—were discussed at length by persons more or less expert in their line, in a hearing before Magistrate Scott Thursday. In fact, so lengthy and interesting was the discussion that the court found it necessary to continue the case until Friday.

The court and counsel are hopeful the air suit will be finally adjudged by the Fourth, in order that all parties concerned may have freedom of mind.

The litigation involves the value of eight ounces of human hair. Marie Johnson, colored, dresser of hair, is defendant in the action instituted by Mrs. Sarah VanWinkle. The plaintiff charges the defendant with having appropriated the hair which was valued, she says, at $21. It was sent to the Johnson woman with instruction that it was to be made into a switch. It seems the switch that was made was not in accord with the desires of the plaintiff, hence the suit.

Attorney Joseph W. Horner represents the plaintiff, and Attorney H. C. Ashcraft entered the discussion on behalf of the defendant hairdresser and switch maker.

Col. Johnny Clem Writes Of His Experiences as the Youngest Soldier of the War

This week's issue of The Outlook contains a full page halftone cut of Johnny Clem, the Drummer Boy of Chickamauga, and it is accompanied by a story from the pen of the Colonel.

Much has been written of Colonel Clem but he has been modest in refraining from exploiting his own war experiences.

The Outlook editor in commenting on Col. Clem's own story says: "The remarkable story of 'the youngest soldier of the Civil War,' who is now the oldest officer, in point of length of service, in the United States army is told elsewhere in this issue. The 'Drummer Boy of Chickamauga' becomes one of the nation's most popular heroes after his exploit at the battle, when he resisted capture and wounded the Confederate Colonel who demanded his surrender."

Col. Clem's home is in Newark and he has a number of relatives residing in this city and vicinity. His many friends will be pleased to read his own story of his exploits which is as follows:

I was the youngest soldier that served in the Civil War. Almost literally it might be said that I went from the nursery to the battlefield. Only a few days after the battle of Chickamauga I was captured by the enemy, and while a prisoner I was kept on the march-most of the time General "Joe" Wheeler, who was in command, took delight in exhibiting me to the women, we came across, saying on each occasion, with a chuckle:

"See to what sore straits the Yankees are driven, when they have to send their babies to fight us!"

At that time I was barely twelve years old when, in May, 1861, I offered my valuable services as a drummer to Captain McDougal, of the Third Ohio Regiment of Volunteers, which was on its way to the front. He looked me over, laughed, and said he wasn't enlisting infants.

This was at Newark, Ohio, where at the time I was going to school. My mother was dead; my father had no notion of allowing me to go to the war. Accordingly, I decided to run away. The spirit of adventure had gripped me. It was necessary that the Union should be preserved, and my help was obviously needed. I climbed aboard the train with the men of the Third Ohio, got passage in the way as far as Cincinnati, and there I offered myself to the Twenty-third Michigan Regiment. Again I was rejected, by reason of my age; but this time I was not to be kept from joining by any mere legal obstacle. I went along with the regiment just the same as a drummer boy, and though not on the muster roll, drew a soldier's pay of thirteen dollars a month. The pay was not drawn from Government funds, however. It came out of the personal pockets of officers of the regiment, who "chipped in" to make up the amount.

From the view-point of the Twenty-second Michigan, I was a member in full standing of that military family—the baby of the regiment. I wore a soldier's uniform, cut down by the regimental tailor from man's size. Later on, after a little shooting scrape in which I was engaged at Chickamauga, accounts of which obtained a rather wide publicity, some kind ladies in Chicago secured my measurements from officers of the regiment and made with their own hands a very handsome uniform for me, to my great joy and pride.

I slept in a tent with two soldiers drew the regular army ration—the principal items of which were pork (commonly called "sowbelly"), beans, hardtack, and coffee—and, of course, had my own knife and fork, tin plate, tin cup, and tin spoon. In all the hardships of war I endured my share—such as marching in rain or snow, sleeping without protection against the elements, and on occasions going hungry. On the other hand, there was a great deal of fun in camp. We used to play handball, townball, and "one-cat and two-cats"—all three of these games being rudimentary forms of baseball.

As for provender, the regular soldiers' fare was often varied and amplified by the proceeds of foraging expeditions. Boys being constitutionally devoid of respect for the property rights of other people, are first-class foragers.

I remember one occasion in Kentucky, when, just before the battle of Perryville, I had shot a little pig. Positive orders against foraging had been issued from headquarters, and great was my dismay when caught with the game in my possession by General Doolittle, who came along most inopportunistically and demanded to know what I meant by such an outrage.

There was nothing to do but to bluff it out, so I replied, "Why, General, you wouldn't let a rebel pig bite you?"

That is all there is of the story—except that General Doolittle had part of the pig for his own supper that night.

The Civil War was largely a boys' war, one might say. Three out of every ten soldiers enlisted on the Union side were under twenty-one years of age. The minimum age of enlistment, under the law, was eighteen; but there were thousands much younger than that who managed to get themselves accepted as recruits. I was youngest of all, and decidedly the littlest, being small of my age.

Boys generally speaking were mighty welcome in the regiments. Their youthful enthusiasm counted for a good deal, and as a rule, they made excellent soldiers. If I had control of affairs in time of war, I would permit, and even encourage, the enlistment of boys. They are good for an army, and for the boys the training and experience are most valuable.

I had some narrow escapes, though I was wounded only twice—once when a piece of shell struck me in the hip and the other time at Atlanta, when while carrying a despatch from General Thomas to General Logan, a ball nipped my ear. On the latter occasion my pony was killed under me. These were mere scratches.

At Shiloh my drum was smashed by a fragment of shell. They called me "Johnny Shiloh" for a while after that. But I ought to explain that in May, 1862, I became a full-fledged soldier being regularly enlisted at Covington, Ky., as a drummer.

At Chickamauga I carried a musket, the barrel of which had been saved off to a length suitable to my size. I went into the battle seated on a caisson alongside of an artilleryman. If I may judge from historical accounts, it was quite a considerable scrimmage; but my own recollection of it is to some extent confused.

At the close of the day the Union forces were retreating toward Chattanooga, and my brigade was sore beset by the enemy. In fact we were in a tight place. A Confederate colonel rode up and yelled at me: "Surrender, you damned little Yankee!"

Raising my musket without aiming, I pulled the trigger, and he fell off his horse, badly wounded.

It was this incident, a report of which was spread through the newspapers that inspired the Chicago ladies of whom I have spoken with the idea of providing a fine uniform for little Johnny Clem. I am glad to be able to add that, according to advices afterwards received, the Confederate colonel recovered from his wound.

As I have said, however, it was a tight place. Three musket balls (as I subsequently ascertained) went through my cap. I decided that the best policy was to fall dead for the moment, and so I did. I lay dead until after dark, when I "came alive" again and managed to find my way to Chattanooga.

When I got there, I was made a sergeant. Think of it—my first promotion! I was a sergeant at twelve years of age.

At Chattanooga I saw General Grant. He knew me. Said he to General Thomas, "Where did you pick up little John?"

Said General Thomas, "At Chickamauga; and I have made him a sergeant."

Looking up at him with boyish impudence, I said, "General, is that all you are going to make me?"

They both laughed at that. But, though I served all through the war, I got no further promotion.

When somebody asked me why I laid aside the drum and took up the musket, I replied that it was because I did not like to stand and be shot at without shooting back. What answer would be more obvious? I imagine that any soldier, boy or man would feel that way.

A few days after the battle of Chickamauga I was captured and was held a prisoner for two months before being exchanged. It was at this period that I was exhibited by General "Joe" Wheeler as the lightning Yankee "baby."

My captors had no sympathetic interest in Yankee babies in uniform. They stole my jacket; they stole my shoes; they even stole my cap, which I was most anxious to preserve, on account of the bullet holes. I wish I had it now.

I would like, by way of parenthesis, to say a word about the qualifications of boys as soldiers.

Boys make first-rate soldiers. To begin with, they have in highest degree what the French call clan, a word feebly translated as "dash."

They are, above all ambitious to do things, and in them the spirit of caution is not yet developed. It is notoriously a fact that the fighter most dangerous to the enemy is the man who himself is not afraid of being killed.

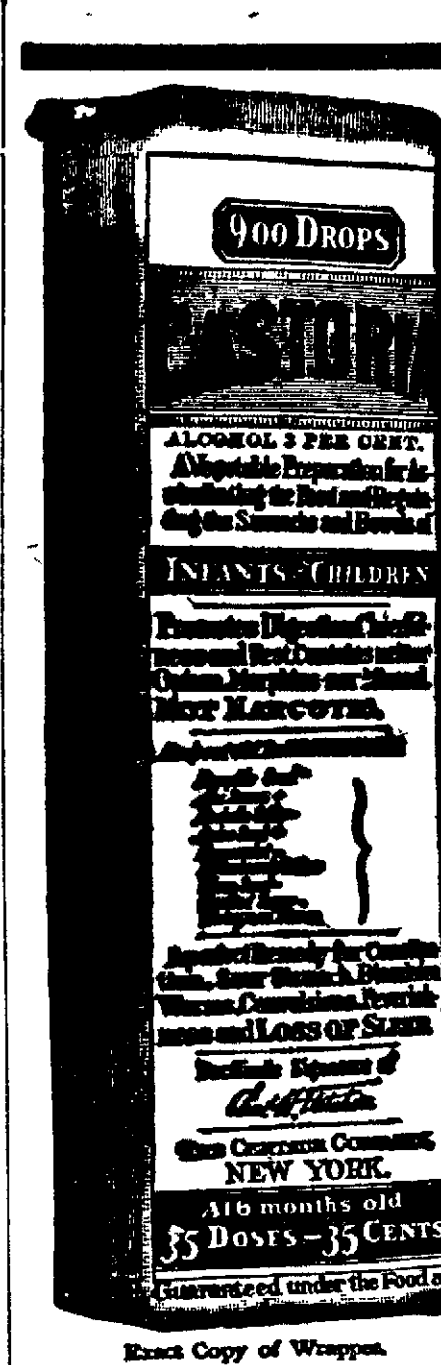

War is bald, naked savagery. Disguise the fact though we may try, it properly bears that definition. As compared with the adult man, the boy is near to the savage.

He can fire a gun as well as a man. He endures hardships at least as well. He is as quick to acquire education in the military art. He responds better than the man to discipline, because he is accustomed to obey. In some respects he takes care of his bodily health better, actually. For example the adult soldier sleepy, will go to bed without his supper. Not so the boy. He will get a meal somehow before bed, though he has to rout the mess cook out with the cook's own kitchen poker.

When it is a question of command, of course the matter is very different. Judgment is the prime requisite there, and this is a quality which boys can scarcely be expected to develop. Nevertheless, in the Civil War there were a number of instances where very young men earned distinction as officers. General Custer for example, was a brigadier-general at twenty-four.

I was myself engaged in quite a number of battles of the Civil War—Stone River, Resaca, Kennesaw, Peach Creek, Atlanta, Nashville, and others. At the end of that great conflict I was honorably mustered out; and thereupon I tried to enter as a cadet at West Point.

But, alas! for entrance at the Point schooling, rather than military experience, was the prime requisite. I had left school to go to war before I was ten years old, and my scholarship was

CONFIRMS THE DISCOVERY OF "TEDDY'S" RIVER

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)

New York, July 2.—Algot Lange, a Danish explorer, who went into the Amazon district in December, 1912, with an expedition sent out by the University of Pennsylvania, arrived here yesterday aboard the steamship Denis from Para, Brazil.

He had talked with natives who were familiar with the movements of the Roosevelt party and all told him, he said, that there was no doubt of the Colonel's having discovered an unexplored river, 2,000 miles long.

Mr. Lange said he himself never questioned Mr. Roosevelt's report of his discoveries.

"THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING"

WHY ONE OF THE LARGEST CEREAL CONCERNS IN THE WORLD

Conducts Such an Extensive Sampling Campaign in this Country and Canada.

"The proof of the pudding is in the chewing of the string." That's an old saying that originated in the days when grandmother knew how to make puddings; when the pudding was cooked in a bag and when a person could get a good idea of the taste and rich flavor of the pudding by chewing the string that was tied around it.

But the pudding that grandmother made is a thing of the past. Nowadays the only proof of the pudding is in the eating of the pudding itself. That's the theory that lies behind the wonderful sampling campaign conducted by the manufacturers of shredded wheat, located at Niagara Falls, the largest and best known cereal food concern in the world. Every year this company puts into every home in the United States, Canada and the British Isles a free sample package of shredded wheat. These packages are not scattered in the usual promiscuous way by hired distributors. They are distributed from the company's clean and handsome automobiles, by the company's own men, and these men are instructed to give a package only to the housewife, or some responsible head of the house in each home. Each package is accompanied by a handsome lithographed circular which illustrates many of the more delicious fruit combinations that can be made with shredded wheat biscuit.

"Why does this company go to all this expense every year?" you ask. Because it is the most direct way of acquiring or reminding the consumer of the peculiar shape and character of the biscuit as well as the purity and nutritive value of the product. In thousands of homes where shredded wheat is known it serves as a reminder of the product. In homes where shredded wheat is not known it serves as an introduction to the family. It is also an evidence of faith in its own product on the part of the company. The proof of the biscuit is in the chewing of the delicious shreds of cooked whole wheat. How could a company afford to conduct this extensive sampling campaign every year unless it had absolute faith in the purity, wholesomeness and nutritive value of its product? This sampling is a part of the vast educational campaign carried on by this company. The "shredded wheat man" and his automobile will be in this city in a few days and every home will receive one of these toothsome reminders of your favorite breakfast cereal, fresh from the cleanest, finest most hygienic food factory in the world.

TO ASK CONGRESS FOR THE REPEAL OF "PLUCKING BOARD"

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, July 2.--Naval officers were discussing with gratification today Secretary Daniels' announced determination to urge congress at its next session to repeal the law of 1898 known as the personnel act under which the "plucking board" picked fifteen officers for compulsory retirement this year. Included in the list of those whose active careers were ended yesterday by the recommendation of the board were several captains with distinguished records. While the health of some of the officers "plucked" had been regarded as somewhat satisfactory, their condition was not such as to warrant medical condemnation. The records of all of them disclosed, according to Secretary Daniels, that they were not unfitted for any naval service from the standpoint of habit, temperament and professional ability.

HIGH COMPLIMENT PAID M'DONALD AS A LECTURER

In summing up Chautauqua week at Nashville, Arkansas, the Nashville News pays the following high compliment to Hon. B. F. McDonald of this city. This paragraph is taken from a column and a half review of the entire series of Chautauqua entertainments:

"Nashville has had an unusually talented array of lecturers for the week, and with them, as with other entertainers, there is such a variety of subjects handled as to appeal to all tastes, and all left the people better for having heard them. Without wishing to detract from the merit of any of the lecturers, there is no question that Hon. B. F. McDonald was easily the favorite. He is a gifted orator and deep thinker, and has the history of the world and all the great achievements at his finger tips. And, with all this, he has a clear insight into human nature, a great sympathy for the frailties of mankind, and impresses his hearers with being deeply in earnest in his efforts to show the world the path to happiness."

Other papers through the state speak highly of Mr. McDonald's lecture. Mr. McDonald has a daily speaking engagement for July and August in Arkansas, Missouri and Iowa.

Try "Ely's Cream Balm." Get a small bottle anyway, just to try it--Apply a little in the nostrils and instantly your clogged nose and stopped-up air passages of the head will open; you will breathe freely; dullness and headache disappear. ness of the times, the great number of men who are out of work, and to give those who need the treatment of an Experienced Specialist an opportunity to get well, I have decided to accept for treatment any curable case, alysis, Prostatic trouble, Female Difreadily to my treatment. If you have anything chronic, I want you.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Look young! Nobody can tell if you use Grandmother's simple recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy. Agents, Hall's Drug Store.

New Corn Cure
A Real Marvel

Guaranteed and Absolutely Painless.

A corn cure that is painless and that will really do the work has finally been discovered. Heretofore, the poor sufferer from corns has been pestered with "drawing" salves and plasters that swell the corns, and has had finally to gouge out this corn and inflict upon himself still greater pain. With Hall's Painless Corn Cure all pain ceases on the first application, and then finally the corn come right off easily and painlessly.
You don't have to dig it out and run the risk of drawing blood, making your corns still more sore or getting blood poison.

Hall's painless Corn Cure is easier to use than any other; it takes a few seconds to apply it. It is guaranteed absolutely in every case. You must be satisfied, or back goes your money.

Lasts longer than several packages of any other corn treatment, and you are sure to get rid of corns and bunions. Sold at 25 cents a bottle at

Hall's Drug Store
Next door to Interurban Station.

BOUND OVER TO THE GRAND JURY BY MAYOR BIGBEE

Mrs. George Victor, whose house in Bremen street was searched Wednesday at the instance of John H. Swisher, was charged in an affidavit subscribed by Mr. Swisher in Mayor Bigbee's court, with having stolen 1 table cloth, 3 napkins, 1 lace doilie, and 1 plain doilie, all of the value of $19, and the property of the said Swisher.

The woman, who is colored, and formerly employed at the Swisher home, had a preliminary hearing before Mayor Bigbee Thursday morning and was bound over to the grand jury under $200 bond.

was said today's talk was to be a personal one on business. The interstate commerce commission's report on its investigation of financial affairs of the New Haven railroad is nearly ready for submission to the Senate, and the time is drawing near to July 15th, the date which President Wilson and Attorney McReynolds have agreed upon filing the anti-trust suit, dissolution of the

New Haven merger, unless the Massachusetts legislature takes certain action which is necessary to a dissolution and which has been recommended by the attorney general and Chairman Elliott of the New Haven board. Whether those subjects were to enter into today's conference was not known.

Another important conference will be held by the president next Wednesday with the delegation of business men representing the Chicago Association of Commerce. In the delegation will be representatives of six of the largest business corporations in Chicago, having interests all over the country.

The conference, represented by the Chicago primarily to discuss anti-trust legislation was readily granted. The delegation is also expected to confer with Secretary Redfield.

SOLD FIRECRACKERS AND WAS FINED IN THE MAYORS COURT

A West Newark merchant was found guilty and fined $1 and costs by Mayor Bigbee this morning, for having sold firecrackers to boys in that neighborhood. He said they were part of an old stock that he wanted to get rid of. The man's name is not published, as he will probably not be guilty again of violating the city ordinance and the mayor's orders. The mayor was lenient this time, and fined the offender only the minimum, but he gives fair warning that those who transgress the regulations in this regard will be punished.

M. C. A., and will be for the purpose of informing the public of the work that the society actually accomplished. A speaker will be procured for the occasion, and there will be various other entertaining numbers on the program. Questions relating to the advancement of humanitarianism will be discussed.

Besides concurring to hold the meeting in August, the directors passed upon the regular routine business of the society.

The busy season comes after planting time, but it's all the same to the undertaker.
